Bellus Academy is truly living its mission of producing graduates within the top percentile who are successful and maintain long term careers in the beauty industry. Therefore, Bellus knows that constantly updating programs so that graduates can remain competitive in the field is a must. As an attestment to these continuing goals, Bellus is offering the Master Esthetics program; one of many continuing education courses available for licensed professionals to gain advanced esthetic skills in both a spa and/or clinical setting.

Offering practical and technical education unheard of in beauty schools, this program is being headed by International Luxury and Medical Spa Professional Joanne Berry. Joining Bellus as the Educational Spa Director, Joanne is the owner of customized consulting company "Spa Remedies" and holds a BTEC National Diploma in Beauty Therapy and an IFA Diploma in Aromatherapy. She brings over eighteen years of experience in positions including sales, therapy, business management and education within various segments of the industry including cruise ships, day spas, resort/destination spas, and medical spas.

GRADUATE TESTIMONIAL—

"I chose to get my Master Esthetics license because I not only enjoyed the medical aspect of the industry, I wanted to have leverage when applying at medical spas. Many estheticians haven't received enough education to be able to teach their clients about their skin and the more advanced treatments they are receiving. My training, however, has equipped me to reassure my clients and to be able to help them understand how the procedures work." - Ashley Macdonald

MAT 09 Fall Winter Collection "Soleil"

The MAT 09 Fall Winter collection "Soleil" draws its inspiration from the opulence and artistry of Cirque du Soleil. Cirque du Soleil was motivated by circus acts from around the world to produce spectacles of incredible magnitude. The MAT let its imagination soar globally and focused on a collection that reflected lavish color palettes, and strong shapes. The color palette was a combination of rich royal blues, bold pinks, vibrant yellows and muted metallic tones. These colors were chosen to compliment the haircuts that combined clean precise lines offset by soft airy silhouettes. The result is a bold collection that is a celebration of form and color.

MAT 09 Soleil Collection: Artistic Director— Diego Raviglione; Master Artistic Team— Lacie Hughes, Paula Rothermel, Jasmine Santos; Make-Up/Styling—Amber Kannar; Color Consultant—Ross McManus; Photography—Tasso

OUR ACADEMIES IN THE NEWS

Our president, Lynelle Lynch, featured in the New York Times— Cosmetology has changed drastically over the last 20 years, but curriculums have remained the same. Lynelle has sought to revolutionize this disproportionate concept. “The industry is much more sophisticated than it once was. You are taking care of people all day, people who come to you to make them feel better. And that makes people feel really good about what they do,” stated Lynelle. MONTHLY MOTIVATIONAL QUOTE

*"Life is not about waiting for the storms to pass...
it's about learning to dance in the rain!"*

Meet Bellus Academy 2009 Graduate Ashley Gray, and the team that operates IF Hair Studio, a charming salon with a contemporary setting nestled in the corner of the Grand Plaza Shopping Center in San Marcos, CA.

Salon owner, Ashley Gray began her career as an Industrial Designer in Korea with a degree from the University of Seoul, but after careful consideration, she decided to change careers and enter the beauty industry about 10 years ago. In partnership with a close friend, Ashley successfully opened and operated a hair salon in Korea. Ashley's business acumen and determination allowed her to mature a $50,000- investment into a profitable business with a net worth of $1,000,000 within 7 years. In addition to being a profitable success, Ashley was also a renowned celebrity stylist and make-up artist after being introduced to many actors and actresses through one of her clients. When she decided to relocate to the United States, Ashley set a new goal of building a salon in the US.

The road to achieving her new goal was not as smooth as she planned when she was informed that she would only receive reciprocity of 300 hours towards a cosmetology license in the United States. Ashley moved forward, determined not to allow this road block to prevent her from reaching her goal, and enrolled at Bellus Academy. She completed the 1600-hour Cosmetology program and received her California cosmetology license shortly afterwards. During this year and a half, Ashley realized that there were many differences in design and style among countries and cultures. She used her time as an opportunity to embrace the differences and learn all that she could while she was in school. Ashley also competed for and won a spot on the Master Artistic Team where she was able to work closely with the Artistic Director creating seasonal collections and working on runway and editorial events.

Ashley's Industrial Design background, education and skills did not go to waste, as she used this creativity to independently design her website, www.ifhairstudio.com, an innovative and informational gallery promoting her salon. With the help of her husband, a swimming pool contractor who completed the build-out, Ashley also designed the salon space. White walls and fixtures accented with soft shades of lime green and charcoal create a Zen-like atmosphere. Ashley's plan is to build her business in its current location over the next two years and then move into a larger space with more prominence in the same complex. Currently, she wants to stay focused on hair and makeup and not go into the skincare/spa side of the beauty industry.

To assist her in fulfilling her business plan, Ashley hired Paula Rothermel, also a Bellus Academy graduate, who was looking for work closer to home than the downtown commute every day. Ashley and Paula built a relationship during their tenure at Bellus Academy. Similarities in their background prior to entering the beauty industry created a strong bond between the two, as Paula started off as an Interior Designer. Paula was also a member of the Master Artistic Team and is a graduate of the Cut and Color Advanced Academy. Being a hairstylist intrigued her because of the similarities in color and design angularity in both interior design and cosmetology. Katie Kobzeff, a graduate of Royale Beauty Academy in Temecula, rounds out the team, whose creativity, eagerness to learn, and desire to provide clients with an unforgettable experience will set them apart from the competition.

Both Ashley and Paula stressed the importance of staying actively involved in the education process. Their best words of advice are "use your time while you're in school to learn everything you can. Work on as many clients as you can. Learn about the business of the beauty industry. Always stay busy and look for ways to further your education. Don't waste your time. Don't be lazy. After graduation, when looking for a job, remember to have a well-prepared resume, and dress appropriately for the job interview."

You will only find top of the line professional products at If Hair Studio which features Bumble and bumble, Schwarzkopf and MAC pro. The team at If Hair Studio is creative, has an eye for color and design, and is determined to succeed. Ashley is currently looking for stylists to join the team, so if you are interested in joining this dynamic organization, search for Ashley's listing in the Hot Jobs section on page 5.
